

For Immediate Release:

Patriots Energy Group Inc., Signs Farmout Contract for 30 Locations in Meade and Breckinridge Counties, Kentucky.

Salt Lake City, Utah, May 22, 2014- Patriots Energy Group Inc., has announced their signing of a Farmout agreement for the drilling of wells on 30 location sites in the Illinois Basin, New Albany Shale. This basin spreads through Illinois, Indiana and Western Kentucky. Specifically, the 30 well locations will be in Meade and Breckinridge Counties, Kentucky. Multiple large energy companies such as Endeavor Energy Resources, Pioneer Energy Services, Anderson Drilling, Countrymark, Sunshine Oil Company and Hard Rock Drilling Co., have been active in this same area during the previous year. Other companies planning on an entry into the area are Alamo Energy Corp., and Kentucky USA Energy Inc.

Company President, Mr. Mark Wheeler stated, "We are happy the negotiations are finished so we can begin on this exciting project."

Patriots Energy Group Inc., is a domestic energy development organization headquartered in Salt Lake City, Utah. The Illinois Basin, New Albany Shale has been the subject of a study that showed it is deep enough to generate an estimated 300 Billion barrels of oil. A portion of this area in Meade and Breckinridge Counties, Kentucky, is the focus of current drilling activity for Patriots Energy Group Inc.
